

Media release
For immediate release

IDENTITY<sup>PR</sup>

vega 91.5fm to broadcast to the troops in East Timor

In one of the biggest tours groups to perform for our troops in some time, legendary vocalist and guitarist Ian Moss, vega 91.5fm announcer and media personality Ian 'Dicko' Dickson, Australian Idol talent Mark Spano and comedians Jeff Green and Lawrence Mooney will all tour to East Timor with Forces Entertainment later this month.

Dicko who will be broadcasting daily for Melbourne's vega 91.5 FM Dicko, Dave and Chrissie breakfast show throughout the duration of the tour, will be run through his paces in boot camp and drill sessions by the Defence personnel.

Dicko said, "I've been a long time admirer of the Australian Armed Forces. The history of the digger is central to Australia's national identity. As one of our newer citizens, I was thrilled and honoured to be picked as part of a team whose job it will be to go out and support the men and women serving our nation overseas."

Australian rock legend, Ian Moss will lift the troops with his most loved classic tracks and new material, including his latest up-tempo, soul single Shake from his new album Soul on West 53rd. Moss and his band will headline the tour performing the soul classics from his new album and much loved Moss/ Cold Chisel hits.

"I'm looking forward to some warm weather and doing my bit for the Aussie troops who are doing their bit for our country in East Timor." Ian Moss

Joining Moss on the tour will be solo artist and Australian Idol finalist Mark Spano who recently supported Chris Isaak on his Australian tour. Spano will entertain the audience with some of his original music and classic rock covers.

Award-winning British comedian Jeff Green who is now based in Australia will also join the tour to provide the troops some cheeky British humour. Green, a well-known face on both radio and TV, has appeared on Spicks and Specks, Good News Week and the World Comedy Tour on The Comedy Channel. Also along to provide some more comic relief, will be stand up comedian Lawrence Mooney.

The artists will perform around four shows for the troops in various areas across East Timor including Dili, Gleno and Baucau.

ENDS

For interview opportunities with any of these artists or for any further tour details, please contact Gillian Linton at IDENTITY PR on 02 9904 2733 or via Gillian@identitypr.com.au.